Regarding Exam Withdrawal due to the Inability to Take an Examination and the Extension of the Processing Time for Final Assignments

According to the examination regulations, an examination candidate can withdraw from an examination if, at the time of the examination, he/she is unable to take the examination. A prerequisite is that the withdrawal is immediately declared to the examination authorities and that the reason for the withdrawal is immediately given und substantiated.

An inability to take an examination, which justifies a withdrawal from the examination, is given, if the health of the examination candidate is temporarily impaired to such an extent that his/her performance during the examination would be considerably diminished.

The withdrawal (from an examination) must be expressly declared to the relevant examinations administration, e.g. standing examining board or the examinations office of the relevant department or to the University's Central Examinations Office. The declaration can be given in writing, via e-mail or telephone and also by an authorised person. To solely send a medical certificate is insufficient. With the declaration of withdrawal, the relevant reasons are to be given and substantiated, without a specific request to do so.

If an examination candidate considers him-/herself to be possibly unable to take an examination, he/she must immediately clarify this by visiting a doctor and by punctually, before the examination begins, declaring his/her withdrawal. If the declaration of withdrawal and the notification of the reason for the withdrawal are not undertaken immediately, a fail grade for the examination or part of the examination is the regular consequence. Immediately means "without undue delay". A belated assertion of the inability to take an examination, aside from in a few exceptional cases, is not possible. This is particularly the case if a candidate waits to declare his/her inability to take an examination until the result of the examination has been announced.

The burden of explanation and proof for the inability to take an examination lies entirely with the examination candidate, i.e. he/she must, in his/her own interests, disclose the particular circumstances of the impairment of his/her performance. Otherwise, the examination authorities will not have access to the basis for determining the inability to take an examination. In order to substantiate an inability to take an examination, a medical certificate is regularly required, which enables the examination authorities to decide, on the basis of the doctor's details, as a medical expert, whether the inability to take an examination can be verified in the case in question. Only the examination authorities can establish this and not the doctor. Therefore the medical certificate must include details about the symptoms or about the kind of performance impairment.

In the student's own interest, it is recommended to personally deliver the medical certificate. However, it is also possible to release the doctor from his/her medical confidentiality und to request him/her to deliver the medical certificate.

The previous statements also apply correspondingly to an application for the extension of the processing time for examinations in the form of written assignments.

Please note: the particular regulations of individual degree courses are to be observed. For instance, in some degree courses of some departments, a medical certificate from a doctor named by the University is required. A list of the named doctors is posted in the relevant departments. With the filled in and signed form (online under: http://www.zpa.uni-konstanz.de/index.php?eID=tx_nawsecuredl&u=0&q=0&t=1426581849&hash=882a0e1194bff23226556ef2a5d5400cce1fe766&file=fileadmin/studium/pruefungen/Mitteilungen/Merkblatt_Pruefungsuecktritt_eng03-2014.pdf or available from the Central Examinations Office), the declaration of withdrawal can be submitted to the relevant examining board or to the Central Examinations Office.

Hinweise für den Arzt:

Bei einem krankheitsbedingten Rücktritt von einer Prüfung besteht ein Spannungsverhältnis zwischen der Chancengleichheit aller Prüflinge und der Privatsphäre des zurücktretenden Prüflings im Rahmen der ihm obliegenden Darlegungs- und Beweislast. Weiterhin spielt auch der Datenschutz bei Übermittlung des Rücktrittsgrundes eine Rolle.

Ihre ärztlichen Tatsachenfeststellungen sind die Grundlage für die Beurteilung der Prüfungsbehörde, ob Prüfungsunfähigkeit vorliegt oder nicht. Beschreiben Sie bitte die Symptome und die Auswirkungen auf die Leistungsfähigkeit so ausführlich, dass der Prüfungsbehörde eine Beurteilung ohne Rückfragen ermöglicht wird.

Die Angabe der Diagnose ist prinzipiell nicht erforderlich. Sie kann jedoch zweckmäßig sein, wenn damit umfassend die Symptome beschrieben werden. Bitte geben Sie die Diagnose aber nur an, wenn der Patient damit ausdrücklich einverstanden ist.

Händigen Sie das Attest dem Patienten aus. Bittet er Sie, das Attest selbst der Prüfungsbehörde zu übermitteln, lassen Sie sich von Ihrer Schweigepflicht entbinden und übermitteln Sie das ärztliche Attest der Prüfungsbehörde.

Notice for the Doctor:

In the case of a withdrawal from an examination due to illness, tension exists between equal opportunities for all examinees and the private sphere of the examinee, who is withdrawing and therefore incurs the burden of explanation and proof. Furthermore, data protection in communicating the reason for the withdrawal plays a role.

Your medical determination of the facts is the basis for the assessment by the examination authorities of whether the inability to take an examination can or cannot be verified. Please describe the symptoms and the effects on the performance ability in detail, in order to enable the examination authorities to make an assessment without further enquiry.

It is not principally necessary to state the diagnosis. This may however be appropriate if it provides a comprehensive description of the symptoms. Please only state the diagnosis if the patient expressly agrees to this.

Please hand the medical certificate to the patient. If he/she requests you to personally deliver the medical certificate to the examination authorities, please release yourself from medical confidentiality and deliver the medical certificate to the examination authorities.
